Message from the Headteacher

Dear Parents and Carers

Happy 2022 to you all. I would welcome you back but as we currently do not have everyone back, this does not seem appropriate. As I write, they are digging to investigate the leak, so we are hoping a resolution can be found in time for a return on Tuesday. In the meantime, we are continuing with remote learning for most learners and some provision for a small group of learners in our primary hall. If you have not been contacted about this group, your son or daughter will be part of the remote learning group. I will be in touch with everyone as soon as I hear more.

Looking forward, we are still on course to have the first phase of our primary quad refurbishment at February half term. This will create a wonderful outdoor learning space, with further phases to improve it, as we raise the funds. It has always been the hope that we can hold an event with parents and carers in school to officially open it, and we continue to aspire to this.

The rearranged primary Christmas lunch is on Wednesday 12th January. We needed to rearrange this as we had no Orange, Yellow or Blue classes in when it should have happened.

Finally, despite the challenges of rising Covid cases and our lack of access to our secondary site, we are very excited to move forward with our curriculum developments and hope to be sharing some new opportunities with you soon.

Let's hope this year finally means we can return to our school life as we knew it.

Have a really good weekend

Best wishes

Lucy

Red Class

Red Class would like to wish everyone a very Happy New Year. We have been using different craft materials to create and colour in New Year fireworks. We also watched the London New Year firework display to get ideas. Pupils have been discussing and writing about what they did in the Christmas break. This morning Becksy, the dog, come to visit us. It was lovely for the pupils to see and stroke her.

So nice to see all pupils back in school and they are settling into the daily routine very well.
